The Sara Morning

Wednesday, 14 October 2026 BACKFILLED EDITION 12 stories · 18 sources

1 source articles could not be read today; those stories show headlines and links only.

THREE THINGS TO KNOW

1. Opening a corporate bank account in Czechia faces delays due to strict anti-money-laundering checks.
2. Zavodovski Island lost nearly 63 percent of its chinstrap penguins as rising ocean temperatures disrupted their food supply.
3. Major Wall Street banks reported higher third-quarter profits compared to a year ago despite executives cautioning about inflation.

Opening Czech Business Bank Accounts Faces Delays Due to Compliance Rules

Establishing a corporate bank account in Czechia often takes longer than registering the firm itself due to stringent anti-money-laundering checks.

- New company founders in Prague regularly experience longer wait times for bank onboarding than for commercial registry approval. [praguemonitor.com]
  > "Founders in Prague often find that the company registers faster than the bank account opens."
- Untangling beneficial ownership structures represents the primary obstacle that slows down account approval. [praguemonitor.com]
  > "Ownership is the commonest cause of delay."
- Financial institutions must verify corporate clients and review key formation paperwork under KYC mandates. [praguemonitor.com]
  > "The bank is legally required to identify and check its client, a process usually called KYC (know your customer)."
- Businesses registered for VAT are legally required to report their business bank account details to the tax authority. [praguemonitor.com]
  > "A VAT-registered company must notify the tax authority of the accounts it uses for business."

In the image: The image displays the publication date of 12 Oct 2026 and the label Czechia in context.

✓ 4 of 4 claims verified against sources · 1 source

praguemonitor.com

You engaged with 2 of 4 Economy, business and finance stories you saw

CLIMATE CHANGE

Insights on Environmental Law Careers and Practice Realities

A recent podcast episode explores the diverse career paths, essential skills, and evolving trends shaping the practice of environmental law today.

- Environmental lawyers work on a wide variety of development initiatives beyond traditional pollution disputes. [mondaq.com:443]

  > "Their work often includes guiding housing, infrastructure, hospital, park, renewable energy, and redevelopment projects through environmental review"

- Project sponsors frequently make the error of bringing in environmental lawyers too late in the process.

  [mondaq.com:443]

  > "The most common mistake project sponsors make is waiting too long to engage environmental counsel"

- Practicing environmental law does not require an academic background in environmental science.

  [mondaq.com:443]

  > "A background in environmental science is not required to practice environmental law"

- Climate change is expanding beyond traditional environmental law to impact diverse fields like property and estate planning.

  [mondaq.com:443]

  > "Climate change is not solely an environmental law issue and is increasingly affecting unexpected areas of legal practice"

In the image: The image displays the logo of Mondaq, the publishing platform for the podcast episode.

✓ 4 of 4 claims verified against sources · 1 source

mondaq.com:443

You engaged with 4 of 8 Climate change stories you saw

World's largest chinstrap penguin colony collapses due to climate change

Zavodovski Island lost nearly 63% of its chinstrap penguins as rising ocean temperatures disrupted their krill food supply, costing the island its title as the world's largest colony.

- The chinstrap penguin population on Zavodovski Island plummeted by nearly two-thirds between 2011 and 2025. [nypost.com]

  > "suffered a severe decline from around 1.09 million breeding individuals in January 2011 to just 402,000 in 2025"

- Rising ocean temperatures forced the penguins' primary food source, Antarctic krill, to move further south.

  [nypost.com]

  > "pushed Antarctic krill — the tiny shrimp-like crustaceans that serve as the chinstraps' primary food source — further south"

- British Antarctic Survey researchers ruled out local volcanic activity as the cause of the population collapse.

  [nypost.com]

  > "Researchers ruled out local volcanic eruptions as the cause of the decline"

- Cape Adare now holds the title for Earth's largest penguin colony. [nypost.com]

  > "a title that now belongs to the Adélie penguin colony at Cape Adare on the opposite side of Antarctica"

In the image: The image illustrates the dramatic volcanic landscape of Zavodovski Island with Mount Curry in the background and vast numbers of penguins gathered on the shore, alongside an inset showing a close-up of a chinstrap penguin.

✓ 4 of 4 claims verified against sources · 1 source

nypost.com

You engaged with 4 of 8 Climate change stories you saw

A Super El Niño Is Brewing on a Warming Planet

A powerful El Niño is developing in the Pacific, interacting with human-caused climate change to influence global temperatures and weather patterns.

- A powerful El Niño is developing in the tropical Pacific Ocean and could become one of the strongest on record. [cnycentral.com]

  > "A powerful El Niño continues to develop in the tropical Pacific Ocean, and it could become one of the strongest events on record"

- El Niño temporarily boosts global temperatures, but greenhouse gas pollution drives the long-term warming trend. [cnycentral.com]

  > "El Niño can temporarily boost global temperatures, but greenhouse gas pollution is driving the long-term warming trend"

- The ten warmest years in the global temperature record have all occurred since 2015. [cnycentral.com]

  > "The 10 warmest years in the global temperature record have all occurred since 2015"

- El Niño redistributes heat stored in the climate system, shifting weather patterns and creating regional temperature and rainfall differences. [cnycentral.com]

  > "El Niño primarily redistributes heat that is already stored in the climate system."

In the image: The image illustrates regional winter impacts across North America—showing warm, dry, cool, and wet zones along with polar and subtropical jet streams—which are not detailed in the text.

✓ 4 of 4 claims verified against sources · 1 source

cnycentral.com

You engaged with 4 of 8 Climate change stories you saw

Singapore Attracts $1.3 Billion in Climate Tech Startup Funding

Singapore dominates Southeast Asia's climate tech investments driven by sovereign wealth funds, long-term government targets, and growing demand for sustainable energy solutions.

- Singapore has secured $1.3 billion in climate tech funding since 2020, representing approximately 80% of Southeast Asia's total. [asia.nikkei.com]

  > “The nation has attracted $1.3 billion in climate tech funding since 2020, accounting for about 80% of the total raised in Southeast Asia”

- Aether Fuels raised $15 million to construct its first commercial-scale sustainable aviation fuel plant targeted for 2028. [asia.nikkei.com]

  > “the company raised an additional $15 million for its first commercial-scale sustainable aviation fuel (SAF) plant.”

- Singapore set a government mandate requiring flights departing from its airports to use a 1% sustainable aviation fuel blend by 2027. [asia.nikkei.com]

  > “requiring a 1% SAF blend for flights departing from Singapore's airports from 2027”

- GIC is increasing its venture capital focus toward climate, energy, and infrastructure assets. [asia.nikkei.com]

  > “the fund plans to continue increasing its venture capital investments, particularly in climate, energy and infrastructure.”

In the image: The illustration depicts dandelion-like structures shedding seeds shaped like digital networks and dollar signs above Singapore's flag pinned on a globe.

✓ 4 of 4 claims verified against sources · 1 source

asia.nikkei.com

You engaged with 4 of 8 Climate change stories you saw

Navigating Business and Economy Regulations for Freelancers and Companies in Czechia

Prague Monitor provides essential guidance on sole-trader registration, tax systems, tourism hosting rules, and corporate registries for businesses operating in Czechia.

- Starting as a sole trader begins at the trade licensing office, which provides the trade authorization and IČO. [praguemonitor.com]

  > "Starting as an OSVČ begins at the trade licensing office (živnostenský úřad), which issues your trade authorisation and IČO."

- Non-EU nationals must initially verify whether their residence status allows them to engage in self-employment. [praguemonitor.com]

  > "Non-EU nationals must first check that their residence status permits self-employment."

- Following registration, freelancers must manage notifications and obligations with the tax office, a health insurer, and the social security administration. [praguemonitor.com]

  > "After registration you still deal with the tax office, a health insurer and the social security administration; check which notifications are yours to make."

- While letting a flat to tourists is permitted in Prague, it involves multiple specific duties regarding reporting, fees, taxes, and EU rules. [praguemonitor.com]

  > "Letting a flat to tourists is not banned in Prague, but it comes with duties many hosts miss. A guide to reporting, fees, tax and the EU rules of 2026."

- The Czech state holds approximately seventy percent ownership of ČEZ, which operates the country's nuclear facilities and electric grid. [praguemonitor.com]

  > "The state owns about 70 per cent of ČEZ, which runs the country's nuclear plants and much of its grid."

In the image: The image shows the Prague Monitor branding and section banner for Business & Economy, but does not provide additional factual context about specific regulations.

✓ 5 of 5 claims verified against sources · 1 source

praguemonitor.com

You engaged with 2 of 4 Economy, business and finance stories you saw

Big Banks Post Strong Q3 Profits Amid Inflation and Rate Warnings

Major Wall Street banks reported higher third-quarter profits compared to a year ago, even as executives cautioned about inflation, fiscal deficits, and rising interest rates.

- Wall Street's biggest banks posted strong third-quarter results while warning about higher interest rates and inflation risks. [thetimes-tribune.com] [journal-advocate.com][courant.com] [timescall.com]

  > "Wall Street's biggest banks reported another strong quarter on Tuesday, as the U.S. consumer continues to pay their bills and businesses keep investing heavily in AI."

- JPMorgan Chase reported a $15.3 billion profit for the third quarter, which missed analysts' expectations. [thetimes-tribune.com] [journal-advocate.com][courant.com] [timescall.com]

  > "JPMorgan posted a $15.3 billion profit in the third quarter, or $5.57 a share, up from $14.4 billion or $5.07 a share, in the same period a year earlier."

- Goldman Sachs saw its quarterly profits rise sharply, driven by higher stock-trading revenue despite a slowdown in bond trading. [thetimes-tribune.com] [journal-advocate.com][courant.com] [timescall.com]

> “Goldman Sachs, whose third-quarter profits rose sharply due to a sharp rise in stock-trading revenue, also reported that its bond trading activity slowed last quarter.”

- Citigroup's third-quarter profits jumped by 40% compared to the previous year, surpassing expectations.

[thetimes-tribune.com][courant.com]

> “Citigroup said its third-quarter profits jumped 40% from a year ago, beating Wall Street expectations.”

- Wells Fargo beat Wall Street forecasts with a $5.95 billion profit following the removal of regulatory asset caps.

[thetimes-tribune.com][courant.com]

> “Wells Fargo posted a profit of $5.95 billion, or $1.87 a share, beating Wall Street forecasts.”

In the image: JPMorgan Chase CEO Jamie Dimon gesturing while speaking during a roundtable event.

✓ 5 of 5 claims verified against sources · 4 sources

thetimes-tribune.com · journal-advocate.com · courant.com · timescall.com

You engaged with 2 of 4 Economy, business and finance stories you saw

Czech banking and finance glossary: terms used by banks

The Czech words on bank statements, payment screens and loan offers, from IBAN and variabilní symbol to RPSN, in plain English.

- Czech bank accounts use a domestic account number structure consisting of an optional prefix, the main account number, a slash, and a four-digit bank code.

[praguemonitor.com]

> “Číslo účtu is the domestic account number: an optional prefix (předčíslí), the main number, a slash and a four-digit kód banky (bank code).”

- The variabilní symbol is a numeric reference field of up to ten digits used in payment instructions, typically acting as an invoice or order number. [praguemonitor.com]

> “Variabilní symbol (VS) is a numeric reference of up to ten digits, usually an invoice or order number.”

- RPSN represents the annual percentage rate of charge, which lenders must state under consumer-credit rules as it encompasses both interest and fees.

[praguemonitor.com]

> “RPSN (roční procentní sazba nákladů) is the annual percentage rate of charge. Consumer-credit rules require lenders to state it, and it is the number to compare, because it includes fees as well as interest.”

- The Financial Market Guarantee System protects depositor funds up to an EU-harmonised level equivalent to EUR 100,000 per depositor per bank.

[praguemonitor.com]

> “Garanční systém finančního trhu is the Financial Market Guarantee System, which protects deposits if a bank fails, at the EU-harmonised level of the koruna equivalent of EUR 100,000 per depositor per bank”

In the image: The image features the Prague Monitor logo, publication date, category header, and a decorative background graphic.

✓ 4 of 4 claims verified against sources · 1 source

praguemonitor.com

You engaged with 2 of 4 Economy, business and finance stories you saw

Climate Activists Picket African Energy Week Urging End to Oil Exploration

Protesters gathered in Cape Town to demand an end to new oil and gas exploration across Africa, challenging industry efforts to expand fossil fuel development.

- Climate activists staged a demonstration outside the African Energy Week conference in Cape Town to demand an end to new oil and gas exploration.

  [thegazette.com][isp.netscape.com:443]

  > “Climate activists picketed outside the African Energy Week conference in Cape Town, South Africa, on Tuesday, calling for an end to new oil and gas exploration across the continent”

- Campaigner Siya Myeza criticized foreign oil companies for profiting at the expense of African ecosystems and human lives.

  [thegazette.com][isp.netscape.com:443]

  > “Oil companies from overseas have made billions in profits this year alone at the expense of people’s lives, at the expense of ecosystems, at the expense of African lives”

- South Africa defends its push for natural gas development as a reliable complement to intermittent renewable energy sources like wind and solar.

  [thegazette.com][isp.netscape.com:443]

  > “The government presents natural gas as a complement to renewable energy, saying gas-fired plants could provide electricity when wind and solar output drops.”

- Extinction Rebellion representative Judy Scott-Goldman argued that expanding fossil fuel use directly contradicts commitments made under the Paris climate agreement.

  [isp.netscape.com:443]

  > “She said expanding fossil fuel use would run counter to commitments under the Paris climate agreement to reduce emissions.”

In the image: The image shows protesters wearing orange jumpsuits and T-shirts with the slogan 'Make Polluters Pay' standing next to a large yellow inflatable structure bearing the text 'THIS IS AFRICA EXPLOITATION WEEK,' while police and attendees are also visible on site.

✓ 4 of 4 claims verified against sources · 3 sources

thegazette.com · isp.netscape.com:443 · stardem.com

You engaged with 2 of 6 Energy stories you saw

Wall Street Mixed As Tech Slump Drags Down Nasdaq

The Dow Jones Industrial Average gained while the S&P 500 and Nasdaq declined amid weakness in technology and semiconductor stocks.

- The S&P 500 slipped and the Nasdaq fell due to technology sector weakness.

  [economictimes.indiatimes.com]

  [fool.com]

  > “Technology, down 0.9 per cent, and consumer discretionary, off 0.7 per cent, were the biggest sector laggards.”

- Energy stocks outperformed among major industry sectors as oil prices rose.

  [economictimes.indiatimes.com]

  [fool.com]

  > “With oil prices rising, energy outperformed among the S&P 500's 11 major industry sectors with a 1.5 per cent advance.”

- Microsoft's market capitalization surpassed $4 trillion for the first time.

  [economictimes.indiatimes.com]

  > “Microsoft finished up 1.1 per cent with its market capitalization climbing above $4 trillion for the first time in a year”

- Salesforce shares rose after receiving an upgrade from BofA Global Research.

  [economictimes.indiatimes.com]

  [fool.com]

  > “Salesforce shares added 2 per cent after BofA Global Research upgraded the stock to "buy" from "underperform.""

In the image: The image displays market data for SPX at 6,468.54 with an NYSE exchange logo, which differs from the specific index closing numbers mentioned in the text.

✓ 4 of 4 claims verified against sources · 2 sources

economictimes.indiatimes.com · fool.com

You engaged with 1 of 2 Financial markets stories you saw

Popular Movies and Shows Leaving Netflix This October

Netflix is removing several licensed titles by October 18, including the entire Hunger Games franchise and the drama Unbroken.

- All five existing Hunger Games films are scheduled to leave Netflix on October 14. [indiatimes.com]

  > “All five existing Hunger Games films are set to depart Netflix on 14 October.”

- The Hunger Games films are reportedly moving to Hulu on the same day they depart from Netflix. [indiatimes.com]

  > “The four Lawrence films are reported to move to Hulu on the same day they leave Netflix.”

- Angelina Jolie’s 2014 biographical drama Unbroken is scheduled to leave Netflix on October 16. [indiatimes.com]

  > “Angelina Jolie’s 2014 drama Unbroken follows the real-life story of Louis Zamperini”

- James Ponsoldt’s 2015 biographical drama The End of the Tour is scheduled to leave Netflix on October 13. [indiatimes.com]

  > “It is scheduled to leave Netflix on 13 October.”

- The 2021 action film Snake Eyes: G.I. Joe Origins is listed among the titles departing Netflix on October 16. [indiatimes.com]

  > “It is listed among the titles departing Netflix on 16 October.”

In the image: The image features Jack O’Connell as Louis Zamperini alongside Japanese soldiers in a scene from the 2014 film Unbroken, which is not mentioned in the text.

✓ 5 of 5 claims verified against sources · 1 source

indiatimes.com

Exploring: a Film and television story outside your usual topics, to learn whether you want more

UK Weather Forecast Predicts Warm October Spell Before Winter Floods

Mild and dry conditions are expected to bring highs of 21C to London before unsettled weather and a heightened flood risk arrive later in the season.

- Mild and dry weather is expected this month, with daytime temperatures rising above average and hitting highs of 21C in London on Thursday. [aol.co.uk]

  > "Daytime temperatures are predicted to be above average for October this week as a warm spell is forecast to bring highs of 21C to London on Thursday."

- A band of rain in the South East will drop temperatures to chillier highs of 15C in London and 12C in Manchester over the weekend. [aol.co.uk]

  > "But a band of rain in the South East is set to drop temperatures back down to chillier highs of 15C in London and 12C in Manchester this weekend."

- The Met Office warns of a heightened potential for wet, windy, and stormy weather, prompting a government-chaired taskforce to assess winter flood preparedness. [aol.co.uk]

  > "a government-chaired taskforce will meet this week to assess how prepared the UK is for flooding this winter."

In the image: The image shows people relaxing and sunbathing on the grass in a park against the backdrop of London's skyline during warm weather, which contrasts with the forecast of upcoming winter floods and cooler rain.

✓ 3 of 3 claims verified against sources · 1 source

aol.co.uk

Exploring: a Weather story outside your usual topics, to learn whether you want more

You're caught up.

That's today's paper. Your next edition arrives tomorrow morning.